

Urban Space Participatory Theatre

September 2022 to March 2023

To encourage and inspire discussion about the development of Kowloon City district, this programme creates a participatory theatre that enables participants to share their vision on the development in the district. Community Sharing sessions involving professional urban planners and architects are also arranged to discuss the use of public space in Kowloon City.

Some photos are provided by the presenter

Presented by Hong Kong Arts Centre