

Reading Hong Kong

February to July 2014

Through guided tours, writing and photography workshops the young people explore Hong Kong's various old districts portrayed by the renowned local poet Ya Si. Through the interaction with the young professional artists, the participants learned how artists get inspirations from the poems for creating new works.

Presented by Hong Kong Arts Festival Society